Before you exercise

Exercise is not recommended if you have a chest infection or a flare up of your lung condition that has not been treated. Before you exercise, please ensure you have checked that you do not have any symptoms of a flare up.

Warning signs for a moderate flare up:

- more wheezy or breathless than normal
- increased cough or sputum, change in colour of sputum
- · loss of appetite or difficulty sleeping
- taking more reliever medication than normal

If you have any of these warning signs of a moderate flare up, please do not start your exercise. Instead, ring:

| Name: | | | |
|--------|------|------|--|
| Phone: | | | |

The health professional may ask you contact your local doctor or respiratory specialist.

Warning signs for a severe flare up:

- unable to perform normal activities like bathing and dressing
- fever or chills
- increased swelling of ankles
- extremely short of breath

If you have any warning signs of a severe flare up, please call your local emergency number.

Improving your health

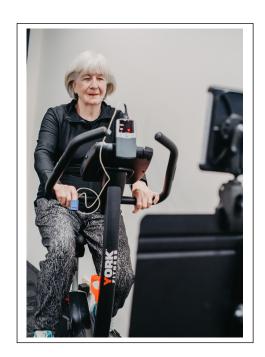

There are steps you can take to control the symptoms of your respiratory condition and slow down the progressive damage to your lungs.

Your health care professionals can help you to take steps that will make you feel better.

Each week, you will have the opportunity to discuss one of these areas with the health professional. Areas that you might like to discuss include:

- Exercising for better health
- Understanding your medications
- · Maintaining a healthy diet
- · Losing or gaining weight
- Managing breathlessness
- Managing flareups and chest infections
- Quitting smoking
- Making the most of your health professionals
- Managing your mood
- Getting the right support

In this space you might like to write down other topics you would like to discuss with the health professional:
